

3 months after treatment

Figure 4. A study was conducted in 2008 in South Carolina to compare the efficacy of insecticides applied alone or mixed with the wetting agent Revolution in controlling ground pearl. No insecticides were effective in significantly reducing the number of ground pearls at three months after treatment.